

GEO CACHING

Geocaching is a high-tech treasure hunting game played throughout the world by adventure seekers equipped with GPS devices.

The basic idea is to locate hidden containers—called geocaches—outdoors and then share experiences online. Anyone can use coordinates found on Geocaching.com to locate geocaches. Geocaching goes hand in hand with the goal of getting families up and moving in a fun way.

The Lititz Public Library is partnering with Lighten Up Lancaster to find ways to make exercise fun and raise healthier children.

A GEOCACHING kit is now available at the Lititz Public Library. The kit containing a GPS unit, beginner guidelines, information on geocaching and a hike to try may be borrowed for one week with your library card.
